

What is Independent Living?

Independent Living is defined as the right to assume responsibility for directing your life in the community. It is living as you choose and can afford. It includes managing your own affairs, fulfilling social roles and making decisions that lead to less physical and psychological dependence on others. It is the freedom to take risks and make choices.

SNCIL promotes the independent living philosophy.

What is the Independent Living Philosophy?

The Independent Living philosophy emphasizes consumer control, the idea that people with disabilities are the best experts on their own needs, having crucial and valuable perspective to contribute and deserving of equal opportunity to decide how to live, work, and take part in their communities, particularly in reference to services that powerfully affect their day-to-day lives and access to independence.
